

Saskatchewan Registered Dietitian Directory for Individual Client Services

There are multiple ways to access the individual services of a Registered Dietitian in Saskatchewan. How you access the Dietitian's services will depend on where you live and what type of service you need. Use our directory to help navigate. It is organized alphabetically by former regional health authority. Tribal councils are included under the heading of the closest former regional health authority. Private practice Dietitians are listed on page 5, alphabetically by the name of the private practice. There are also several free group class options listed on the last page.

- 1) Dietitian Call Center (Eat Well Saskatchewan) for free nutrition advice: 1-833-966-5541
- 2) Self-refer! Phone your local health center or the number listed below and ask to speak to the dietitian.
- 3) Have your family physician or allied health care provider send a referral for dietitian services.
- 4) Contact a private practice Dietitian who offers fee for service. Check your insurance plan for coverage.

Private Practice Dietitians	Private practice Dietitians offer fee for service. Each Dietitian independently sets their fees. Check their websites for information on their fees and areas of speciality. Some insurance plans provide coverage for seeing a private practice dietitian, so check your plan. If you don't currently have coverage for Dietitians services, advocate to your employer and/or plan provider and express interest in having dietitian services covered in the future. The owner and location of main office is listed in brackets after the name of the private practice. The location is given as a guide, most dietitians provide services throughout the province, contact directly for details.
